* Almost nine out of ten experienced advertisers, making up a list of news papers for a publicity campaign, aim to use the paper in each city recognized as the leading home favorite. There is a logical reason for this preference. Clean, home newspapers, that go home and stay there, have the confidence of their readers at all times and naturally offer the first introduction for an advertised article. Hawaii Not Destined Declares Secretary Atkinson To Be Japanized

SECRETARY "JAC." ATKINSON.

The New York Independent of Sept. 21 publishes the following on "Hawaii and the Japanese" by Secretary A. L. C. Atkinson:

I do not believe that Hawaii is destined to be Japanized. It is a fact that the Japanese population of the islands is more than twice the number of Caucasians of all nationalities, and it must be admitted that the Japanese, originally brought here as laborers—a large majority of them contract laborers before annexation—have made very considerable advances as skilled laborers and have driven many American skilled laborers away from the group. The oft-mentioned fact that there are thousands of young Japanese growing up all over the islands who will have the right, being American born, to demand American citizenship and vote must also be admitted. It is pointed out by alarmists in Hawaii today that in about ten years enough of these youths will grow up to dominate the political situation in the islands, and a Japanese Legislature and Japanese county officials in this little American Territory are freely predicted by the alarmists.

The Japanese, however, do not become expatriated. They will not want American citizenship. They do not want it now. In the last general election here the Japanese who voted can be counted on the fingers of a hand, though there are undoubtedly several hundred who could qualify. The Chinese far more readily accept American citizenship, or, rather, reach after it when able, and we have about two hundred of them as voters. The Chinese desire for citizenship, however, is usually not founded on devotion to Americanism. It is merely a matter of avoiding the difficulties and inconveniences of the Exclusion Act, for a Chinese who is an American citizen may travel to and from the country as he wills. The Japanese want our education, our business and mechanical knowledge and our money, but, far more than the Chinese, they want to keep their own nationality. This is why they will never dominate an election.

Peace Now In Effect

Washington, D. C., Oct. 16, 1905. To Consul-General Salto, Honolulu. Peace treaty between Japan and Russia was ratified by both sovereigns on the 14th day of October, 1905. The notice of ratifications was exchanged by both governments. In Japan it was promulgated by Imperial Edict on the 16th inst. The treaty will take effect as a whole on and after the date on which the notice is given. TAKAHIRA.

W. N. ARMSTRONG DIES AT SEVENTY

William Nevins Armstrong, who had a host of friends and leaves numerous relatives in Hawaii, who toured the world with Kalakaua and whose book, "Around the World With a King," was recently published, died last night.

Mrs. Ellen Armstrong Weaver, his sister, of this city, this morning received a cable dated at Washington, D. C., announcing Mr. Armstrong's death. According to the latest mail advices, Mr. Armstrong was at his home at Hampton, Virginia. Whether death came to Mr. Armstrong in Washington or Hampton is not yet known. Mr. Armstrong was born March 10, 1835, therefore being over seventy years of age at death. He was born at Lahaina, Maui. His father was Richard Armstrong, Minister of Public Instruction here for many years, having been sent out to Hawaii by the American Board of Missions. His mother was Clarissa Chapman Armstrong, sister of Chief Justice Chapman of Massachusetts. Leaving Lahaina, Mr. Armstrong's parents took up their residence on Beretania street, this city. The youth attended the Royal school with Kalakaua and other big chiefs of Hawaii. Later he went to Yale College, where he graduated, then studying law with his uncle, Judge Chapman, at Pittsfield, Mass. He practiced law in New York for a number of years, until King Kalakaua sent for him to come to Hawaii as Attorney General and immediately take a trip with him around the world.

Returning from the world tour, Mr. Armstrong resigned as Attorney General and returned to New York to practice law. There he was made Commissioner of the Supreme Court for trying damage cases arising out of the construction of the New York elevated railway system. Mr. Armstrong gave up business in New York because of ill health, having contracted malaria in Virginia.

Mr. Armstrong organized the oyster business in the East, after getting the (Continued on Page 5.)

Among the passengers expected on the Sonoma is Mr. Carl Lovestad whom rumor says will return with a bride from Minneapolis. A reception will probably be given Mr. and Mrs. Lovestad at Bishop Restarick's residence next Thursday night, the regular meeting of St. Andrew's Brotherhood, of which Mr. Lovestad is the local president.

S. S. Alameda Agents Have The Bulge On Merchants MUST DIG BEFORE THEY GET GOODS

Merchants of the city are gathering this afternoon, at a special meeting of the Merchants' Association, in the Young building, to ascertain through general discussion, representatives of the Marine Underwriters and W. G. Irwin & Co., O. S. S. Co. agents, being present, how they are to come out in the matter of freight originally shipped by the Alameda which went on the rocks at Fort Point, San Francisco, a portion of which cargo was brought here by the Nevada on Saturday.

Among the things the local merchants are anxious to learn are: Did the Underwriters save the Alameda's cargo as well as the boat itself; does the cause of the Alameda's accident and the consequent damages to cargo come under the head of things for which the steamship company is responsible, or will the steamship company hold that the accident was an "act of God" or something else the steamship company does not hold itself liable for. All this is material to the matter of insurance and the payment of the pro rata of salvage.

The consignees want to know just what is demanded of them. No consignee can secure what Alameda freight arrived on the Nevada for him until he deposits with the Alameda's agents one-third of the value of the consignment. The value of the consignment has to be settled between the consignee and the agents of the Alameda. If it is decided, say, that the consignees have to pay a third and the steamship company agents have the bulge on the consignees by the retention of the money deposited and the consignees must take their goods subject to what damage has been sustained.

The merchants want to know what it is going to cost them to get their goods. No payments will be made and no goods taken until some understanding has been reached.

Before delivery of cargo can be made it will be necessary for consignees to call at the office of W. G. Irwin & Co. and sign average bond, also furnish either banker's guarantee or other satisfactory security for the payment of the general average and special charges.

To facilitate the settlement of the average, Johnson & Higgins, average adjusters, San Francisco, are sending to Honolulu consignees a form to be filled out by each consignee on each shipment showing the following particulars:

Original shipment; that portion of who, being delegates to either one of the district conventions, the County convention or the Territorial convention, would naturally take a very great interest in the welfare of the party, feeling that they were each having something of a useful and honored part in the proceedings.

At the next meeting of the Republican Territorial Central Committee, occurring on the first Saturday in November, the 4th, it is expected that the committee on the revision of party rules will report. In the meanwhile members of the sub-committee are as anxious as ever to secure as many expressions of public opinion as to what these rules should be, as possible. Representative Waterhouse the other day gave his opinion in regard to conventions and rule revision. The revision of the rules is by no means complete, and the expressed views of members (Continued on Page 8.)

Delegates to one convention would not be permitted to be delegates to another. There would be the two district conventions for the nomination of Representatives, the County convention for the choosing of Senators and County officers and the Territorial convention for the selection of the candidate for Delegate to Washington.

In this way there would be four conventions to which delegates would have to be elected and no man could be delegate to more than one convention, so that there would be four or five hundred men acting as delegates in a general campaign.

It is the Senator's idea that the chance of "machine work" would be reduced to the minimum with these multifarious delegates to the various conventions and that the increased opportunity of delegateship would insure a large active working force of good, dependable Republican workers, men

RUSSIAN SHIPS ARE NOW RELEASED

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 16.—The treaty of peace between Russia and Japan was published today and the peace is now complete. The treaty, as published, follows the same as previously outlined when originally framed. The publication of the treaty was followed by summary orders to all American commanders to release the Russian vessels interned in American waters.

EMPEROR COMMENDS TREATY.
TOKIO, Japan, Oct. 16.—An Imperial rescript issued today commends the treaty of peace.
Baron Komura arrived today and was quietly received by the Emperor, but with distinguished honor.

"OWL" DERAILED.
FRESNO, Cal., Oct. 16.—The "Owl" train was derailed here this morning by a misplaced switch. Two persons were killed and one seriously injured.

DUKE IS DISCIPLINED.
ST. PETERSBURG, Russia, Oct. 16.—The Grand Duke Cyril has been deprived of his decorations and dismissed from the army on account of his marriage with the divorced wife of the Grand Duke of Hesse.

ARMSTRONG DIED IN WASHINGTON.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 16.—William N. Armstrong, formerly of Hawaii, is dead in this city.

THE DISUNION IS COMPLETE.
STOCKHOLM, Oct. 16.—The union between Norway and Sweden has been finally dissolved.

shipment delivered at Honolulu; its condition as delivered; gross wholesale market value of portion delivered in condition as delivered at Honolulu; any other charges incurred to obtain delivery; net value as in condition delivered of cargo delivered at Honolulu; where insured and for what amount; a verbatim certified copy of invoice covering original shipment. If consignees follow these instructions and furnish, promptly after receipt of goods, the above information to Messrs. W. G. Irwin & Co., it is said, it will greatly facilitate the adjustment, be appreciated by the adjusters, and save consignees much trouble.

The gross wholesale selling value at destination does not mean the cost of landing the goods at destination, but is the gross wholesale value in the sense of what the goods are worth in the market and could be purchased for spot delivery on the date of arrival.

Neither the invoice value nor the insured value can be accepted for the adjustment.

Federal Grand Jury Returns Bunch Of Indictments

The Federal Grand Jury this morning submitted another partial report this being the second of its kind filed since the opening of the term. Foreman L. C. Ables stated to the Court that the first report a number of cases had been investigated and nine indictments found. United States District Attorney Breckons asked that bench warrants be issued for those of the defendants who were not already in custody, and that three of the indictments be placed on the secret file. The six indictments remaining on the open file are as follows:

Frank C. Bertelmann, charged on two counts with impersonating a United States government official. The first count charges him with having on August 27 obtained $1 by such impersonation from a Japanese, named Nagatomo Matsuo. The second count charges him with having on the same day obtained fifty cents by similar means from one Shimakichi Ueyehino. This is the second time that Bertelmann has been charged with impersonating Uncle Sam's officials. A short time ago several charges were preferred against him alleging that he obtained money by passing himself as an internal revenue officer. At the time he managed to clear himself by showing that he had been canvassing for a directory he was getting up.

Au Hook Yuen and Ching Chee are charged with conspiracy in the matter of illegally importing a Chinese woman, named Au Tam Shee. The indictment shows that on May 8 the woman was landed from the steamship Siberia and that Au Hook Yuen secured her admittance to the Territory by representing to the immigration officials that she was his wife, while, as a matter of fact, she was the wife of Ching Chee.

Kunakichi Kamatani and Goro Morioka are charged with conspiracy to have adultery committed. The offense is one of those which are so common among the lower class Japanese. It is alleged that one June 1 Kamatani delivered to Morioka Asa Kamatani, who was a married woman.

Tamezi Honda and Kumaki Hokada are also charged with conspiracy to have adultery committed, this matter being in every respect very similar to the matter referred to above. In this case Honda on May 1 delivered to Hokada Shima Honda, a married woman. (Continued on Page 8.)
